

ABSTRACT

The present disclosure relates to a system and method for controlling the presentation of advertisements. In one arrangement, the system and method are adapted to collect weather condition information, determine which advertisements are appropriate
5 for presentation based upon the weather condition information, and facilitate presentation of appropriate advertisements.

10010610-1